Get set for the changes kids can make in twelve years.

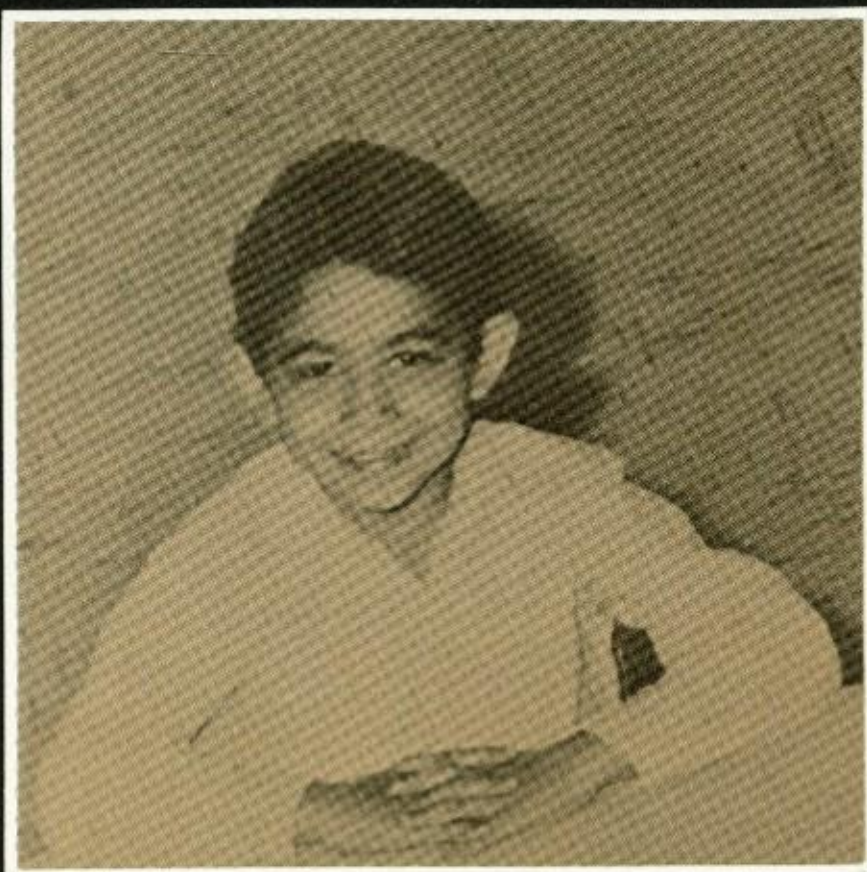

Watch that step, Dianne Briskey. It's such a big one for a kindergartner.

Kenneth Nafziger, the perfect little gentleman, ties Yvonne Rupp's bow, but Monica Rupp must fix her own. George Nafziger and Bruce Beck are eager to get home in time to see the noon cartoon.

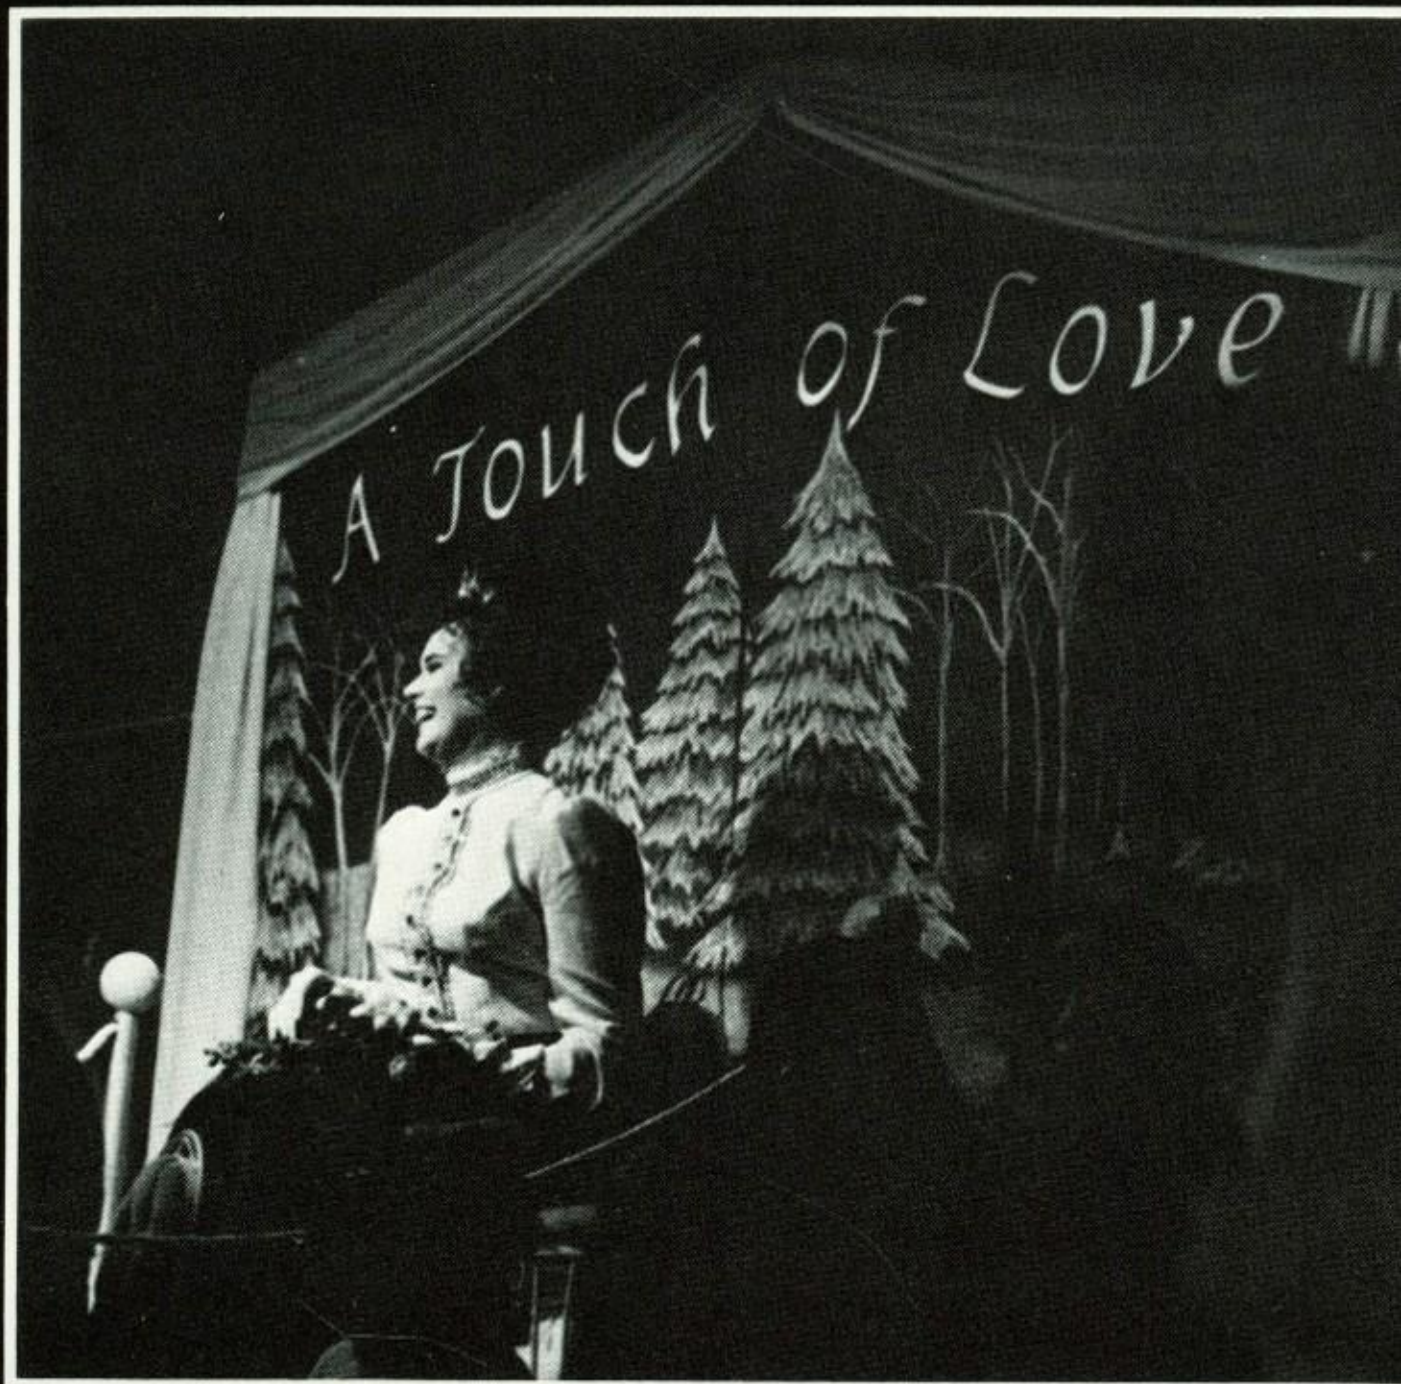

Danny Yoder, Nathan Baer, Randy Grieser,
Mike Leininger and Jerry King once enjoyed playing with their cars and trucks.

There are various uses for the mouth. Carlos Estrada, as a kindergartner, demonstrates the nicest—a smile.

The class of 1972 stayed in the spotlight from kindergarten to senior year. Chris Rupp and George Nafziger started them out as flower girl and crown bearer for the homecoming of 1960.

School, one of life's stepping stones

Questioning minds are active at Pettisville.

School IS the spice of life during white elephant sales, where you can buy almost anything, and club parties, where the food is.

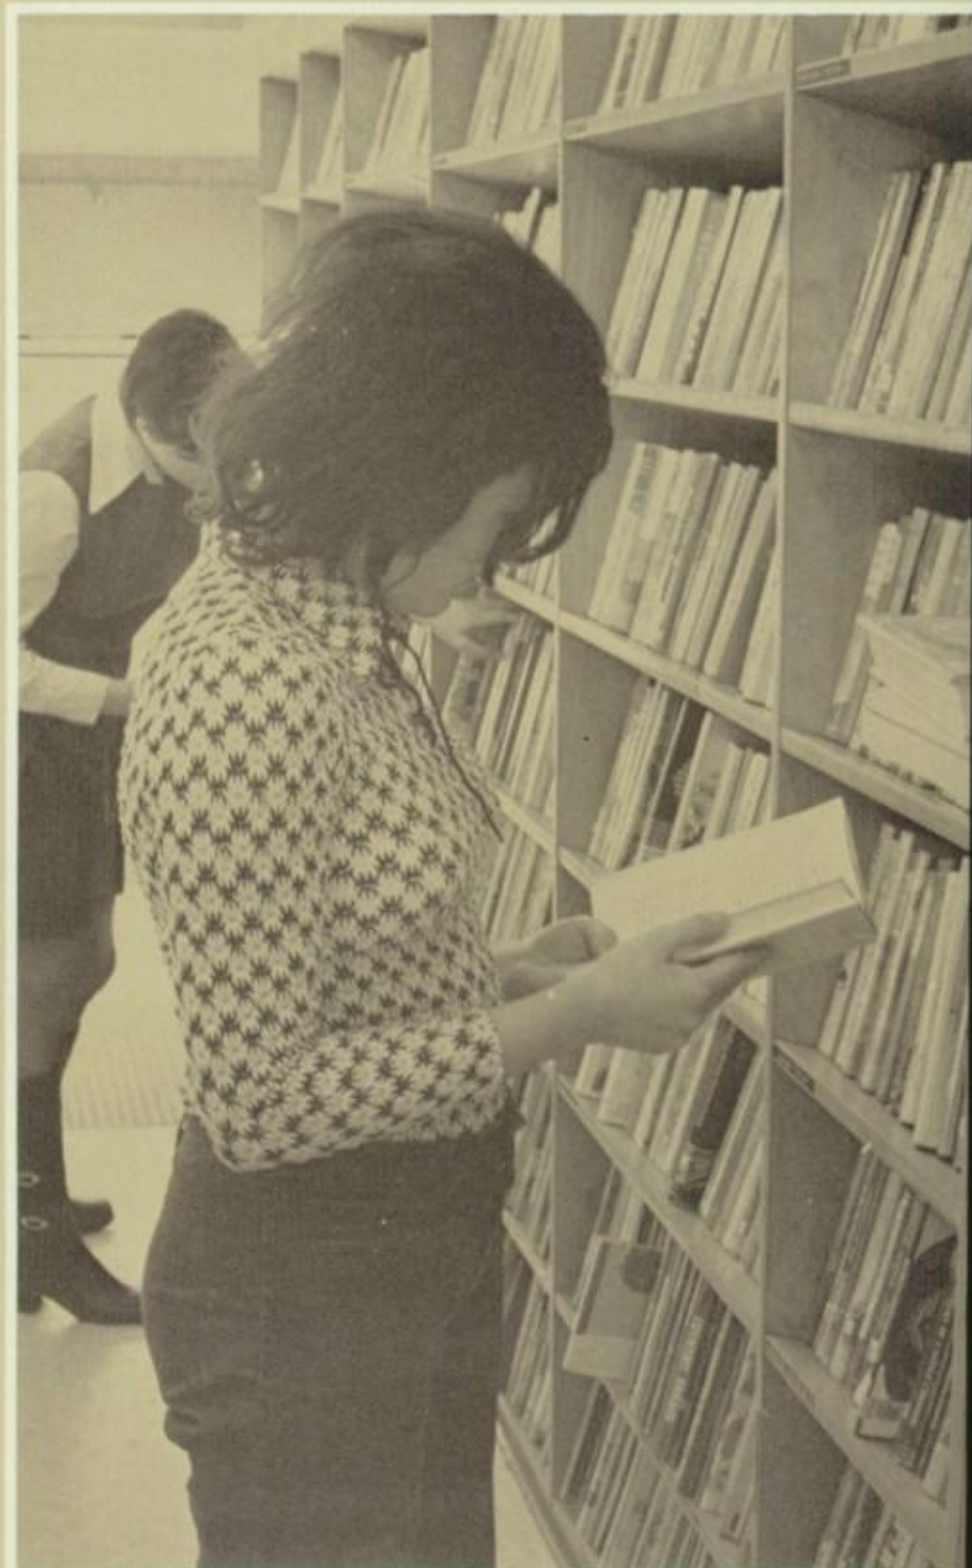

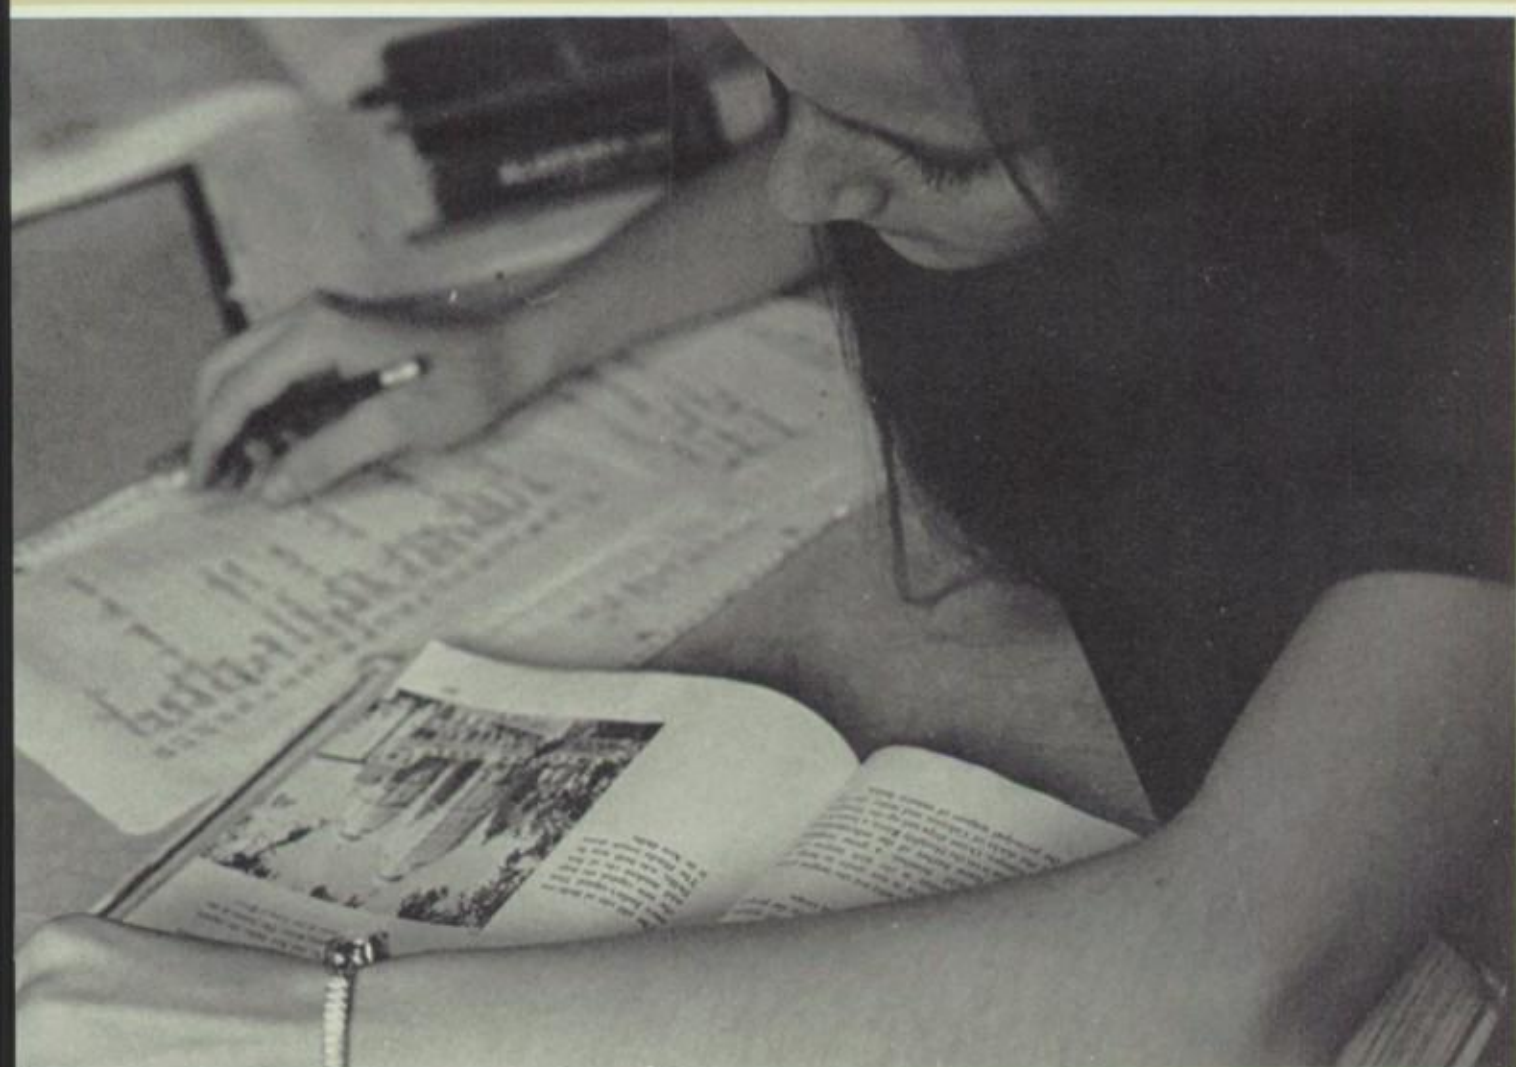

Various ways to spend the noon hour include listening to taped music and eating.

If you have exhausted the supply of good reading material in the library, try the bookmoble.

Some lucky people can get a pretty girl to help with difficult school work.

Studying is still the major road to knowledge.

Christmas time puts everyone in a festive mood. Teachers even use their noon hours to talk to kids.

A cheerful teacher helps brighten the day for the students.

What type of extracurricular work is this?

To achieve a feeling of unity, our cheerleaders and theirs get together for one big spirit cheer.

Mrs. Wilma Schrock was one of the community volunteers who came in to help in the library.

A prayer group was formed for students who felt they wanted a spiritual boost during the week.

Aren't these girls lucky. Every-day coins slide through their fingers as they count the lunch money.

All that string to untangle. Will it ever come out right?

Demetrius Dallas, better known as Taki, is a Greek student studying at Pettisville to further his education. It seems that he is interested in more than just his studies.

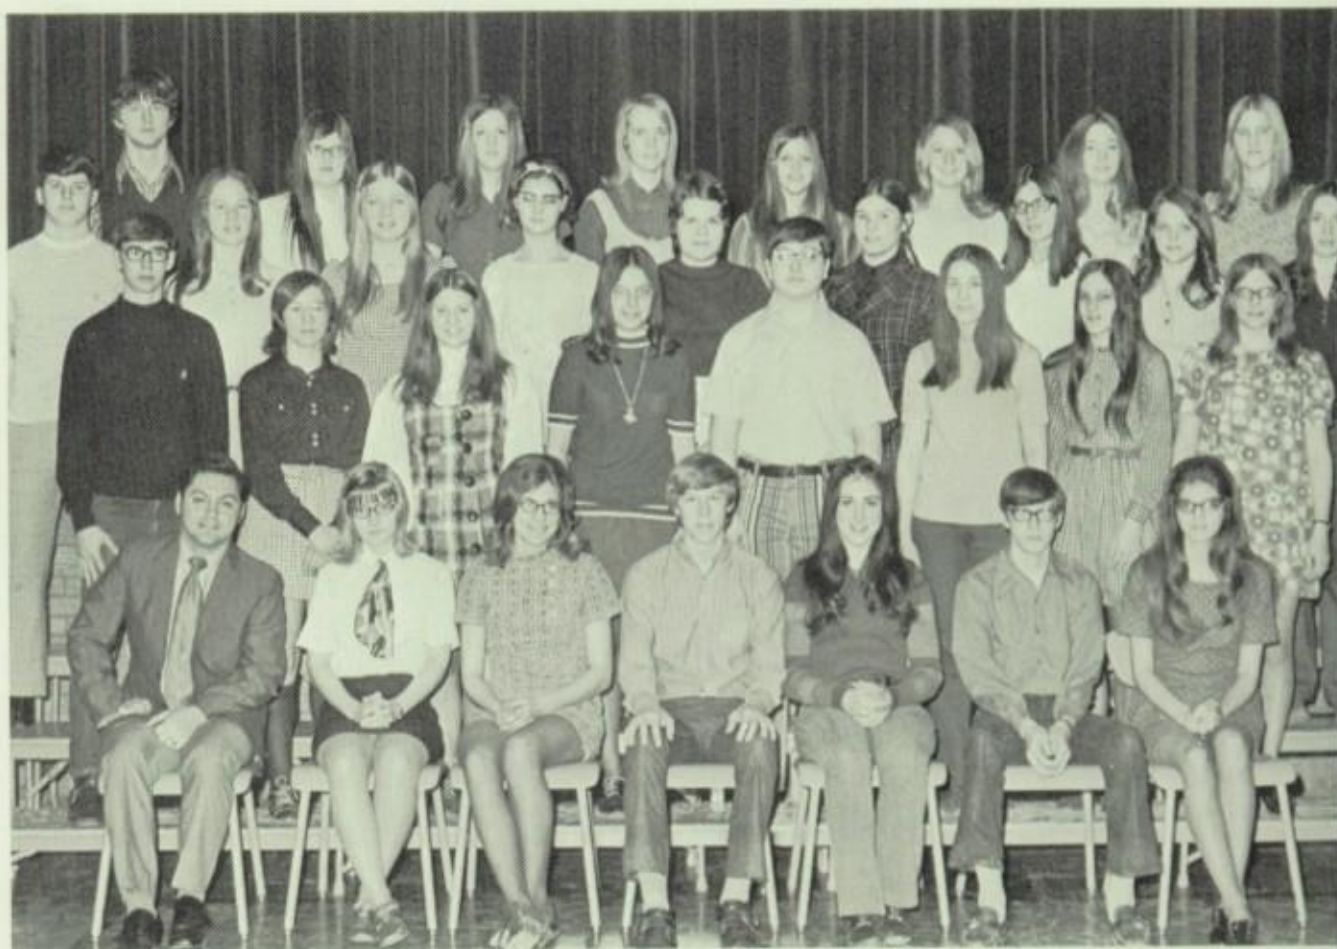

Can studies be that amusing?

WE THINK EVERYONE SHOULD BELONG TO A CLUB — AS A MATTER OF FACT, IF YOU'D CARE TO BUY ONE WE HAVE SEVERAL FOR SALE RIGHT HERE.

This book takes work

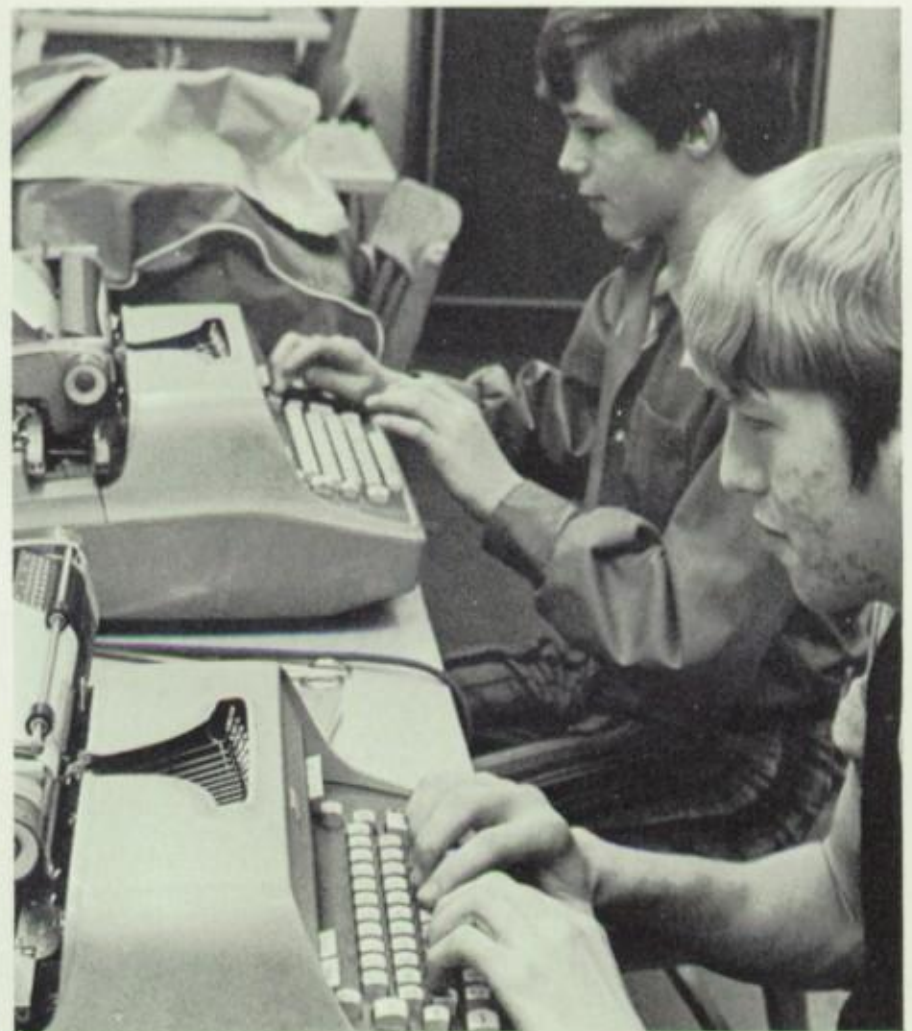

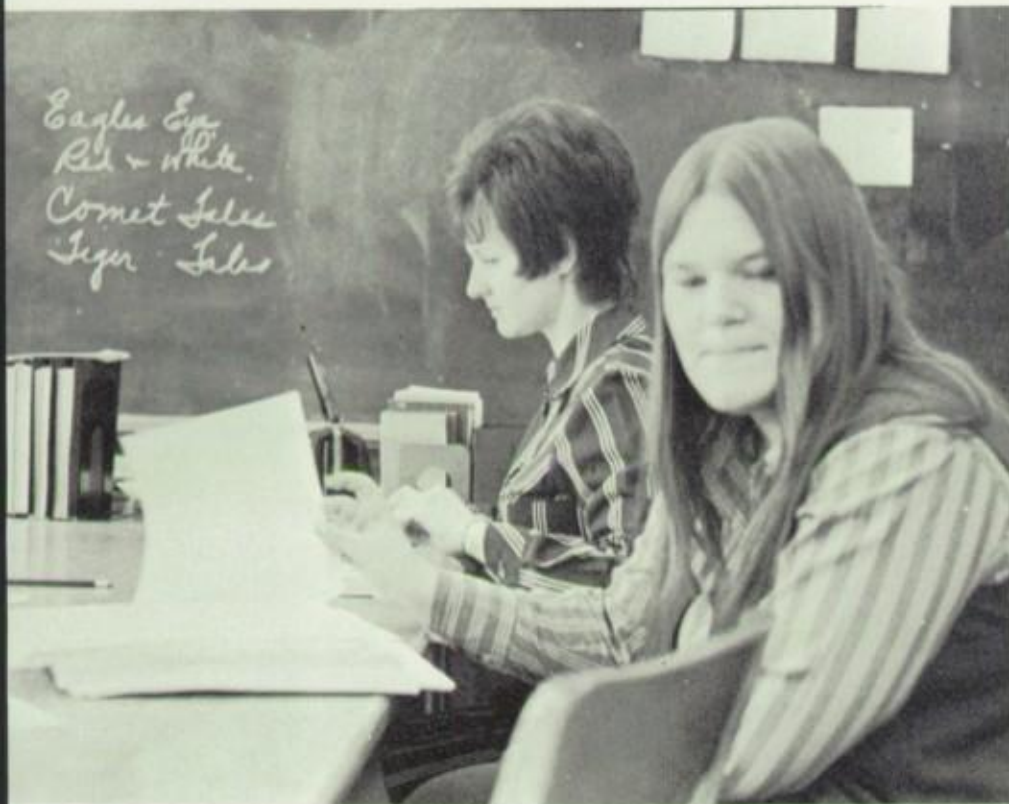

TOP. Miss Loretta Rupp — adviser, Roger Nafziger — assistant editor and Chris Rupp — yearbook editor work on picture layouts.

CENTER LEFT. All the copy is written by the copy staff. Donna Schlabach — staff member, Dianne Briskey — copy editor, and Yvonne Rupp — assistant copy editor try to think up a catchy sentence.

Journalism brings the news

LOWER LEFT. Terry Lantz, Robert Fowler, and Steve Frey run off pages of the paper on the duplicating machine.

Juniors reign in Fenwick

The juniors presented a comedy entitled "The Mouse that Roared" in which Grand Fenwick, a nation measuring 24 square miles, defeated the United States by capturing an American bomb.

TOP LEFT. Excited female tourists, played by Linda Gruenhagen, Dawn Spengler, Janet Oyer, and Audrey Grieser, do their best to appear stunning on a television interview.

TOP RIGHT. Robert Nafziger, the royal uncle, is astonished to learn that Grand Fenwick has overpowered the United States.

RIGHT. Donna Schlabach, as Tully's mother, is pleased to hear that her son, played by Andrew Rice, is to become the husband of the Duchess, played by Becky Frey.

LEFT. The highly excitable Professor Kokintz, played by Con Beck, frantically guards the bomb lest the two soldiers, portrayed by Mark Nofziger and Gary Rupp, jiggle the board and obliterate Europe.

LOWER LEFT. The American General, Rodney King, and his two daughters, played by Carma Riegsecker and Carma Fricke, have been captured and are being guarded by a soldier, Terry Lantz.

LOWER RIGHT. Tom Schmidt, as President of the United States, is perplexed to hear what his Secretary of War, Ed Frey, has reported; that the United States has actually been defeated by Grand Fenwick.

In the senior play "Thunder on Sycamore Street" the inhabitants of the street wanted to throw the Blakes out of their house simply because they were different. In the end they realized that they had faults of their own and the Blakes were allowed to remain in their home. TOP LEFT: The neighbors, portrayed by Jenny Graffice, Suzie Hoops, Mary Lou Fricke, Bruce Beck, Delvin Riegsecker and Randy Grieser, get together to discuss the removal of the Blakes from the community. TOP RIGHT: Phyllis Hayes, Mary Wagler, shaking her husband, Len Nafziger, tries to make him realize they would be forced to leave if they helped the Blakes. RIGHT: Bruce Beck as Frank Morrison, Delvin Riegsecker as Charlie Denton, Randy Grieser as Bill McCallister, tell Arthur Hayes, Len Nafziger, that he must go along with them to tell Mr. Blake to get out. BELOW: Joe Blake, David Nofziger, is fixing one of his family's few possessions. His wife, Lois Eby, counts the things she has to be thankful for.

Thunder was heard on Sycamore Street

TOP. What do you think of that. Mr. Blake, Dave Nofziger, has a lot of nerve coming right up to the front door. Mrs. Hayes, Mary Wagler, is unnerved and her mother, Mrs. Harkness, Dianne Briskey, is simply flabbergasted by his audacity.

CENTER LEFT. The Morrison family discusses the neighborhood problem around the supper table. Here is Mrs. Morrison, Mary Fricke, Mr. Morrison, Bruce Beck, with Kenneth Nafziger as Roger, and Jeff Nafziger as Chris.

CENTER RIGHT. Caroline Hayes, portrayed by Vicki King, introduces her father, Leonard Nafziger, to Judy Blake, Yvonne Rupp.

The setting for the junior-senior banquet was the scenery presented in the Wizard of Oz.

Over the Rainbow

TOP. Delvin Rychener and Jane Grieser are two of the Munchkins who served those who attended the banquet.

CENTER RIGHT. Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Porter prove that the faculty also enjoys the junior-senior banquet.

BELOW. The guests gave their undivided attention to the program.

Let's go band

The band gave numerous concerts throughout the school year. Various members also participated in solo and ensemble contests where they received very good ratings for their performances. Summer band camp has become an important part of the year's activities.

Fifth grade presents western conflict

A small town in Colorado in the early mining days was the setting of "The Saga of Dead Dog Gulch", the fifth grade operetta. Everything was in an uproar because the ladies of the town were trying to beautify Dead Dog. The cowboys, thinking Dead Dog would be a pushover, planned to take over the town. The kids of the town changed the cowboys' plans by stealing their guns and hiding their clothes while they slept. The ladies, thinking their husbands had saved them, decided to stop beautifying the town and fix the men a good breakfast. The cowboys decided to settle down and live peacefully. The kids were happy to see the town return to normal.

Young athletes get a good start

The seventh grade compiled a 5-4 record this year.

The eighth grade once again were undefeated as they compiled a 15-0 record. The young Birds were the league champions and also the tournament champions.

The freshmen displayed a lot of hustle in their games, but, because of a lack of height, acquired a record of 4 wins and 10 losses.

SEVENTH GRADE CHEERLEADERS. Lisa Wyse, Tammy Spengler, Tina Spengler, Barb Rupp.

Varsity show their power

Once again the scrappy Blackbirds met their foes and gave Pettisville another winning season on the basketball court. As in previous years, the Blackbirds were lacking in height and a welcome addition to the team was 6' 2" junior forward Jack Oyer. With his height and the experience of the two returning starters, 6' 1" senior center Dave Nofziger, and 6' 0" senior forward Steve Miller, the Birds were able to get many second shots which helped them greatly in compiling their 11 wins over 8 losses. Rounding out the fearless five were the sharpshooting senior guards Len Nafziger and Ken Nafziger.

The highlight of the 1971-72 season came early, as the Birds defeated the Delta Panthers by hitting an incredible 70% from the field. Delta later became the district runners-up in the class AA tournament.

In tournament action the Bird's first game was with the tenth ranked class A team in the state, Ottawa Hills. After playing perhaps their best game of the season, the Birds ended just 5 points shy of all hope for an upset. Congratulations, Blackbirds, on another fine season.

Tournament Games

This year the Pettisville varsity baseball team was young and inexperienced as only four lettermen returned from last year's team. They made up for this by hustle and desire and finished the year with a 9 wins and 7 losses record. There will be ten lettermen returning next year, so Coach Dave Ripke is hoping for a good season.

After beating the North Central Eagles in the first game of tournament action, the Blackbirds were beaten in the Sectional final by the Montpelier Locomotives. So all in all it looks as if Pettisville Blackbird Baseball is on the upswing again.

They swing together

TOP RIGHT. Duane Price, sophomore pitcher, prepares for his delivery while Dave Nofziger stands poised, prepared for any ground ball that might be hit his way.

CENTER. Now is time to get runs, and each of the players sits back and awaits his turn at bat.

RIGHT. Assistant Coach Brannan, scorekeeper for the team, always has his mind on the game.

TOP. Determination is the name of the game, and Delvin Rychener, Jack Oyer, and Terry Lantz are determined to win.

ABOVE RIGHT. Ron Rittichier mentally prepares himself. This is no time for games; he is out to win.

A Touch of Love

BELOW LEFT. Mary Lou Fricke reigned as queen over the 1971-72 Homecoming. Baskets of flowers, carried by each of the girls, were an added touch.

THERE'LL BE A SNAP QUIZ IN MISS GRIDLEY'S CLASS — PASS THE WORD.

ACADEMICS

They govern the school

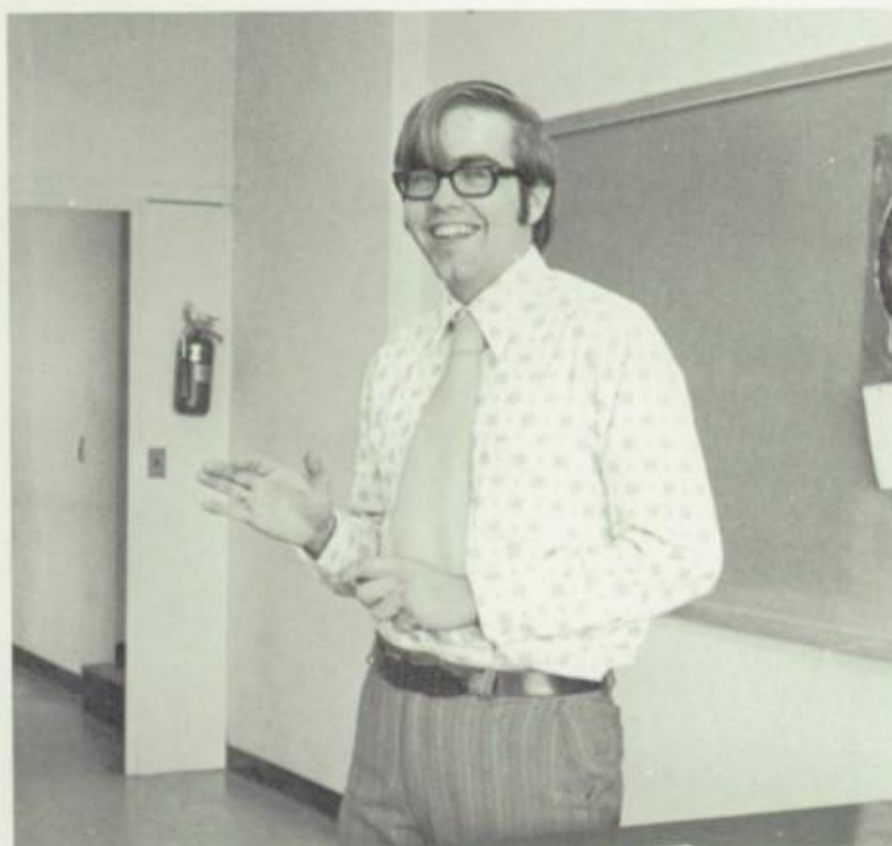

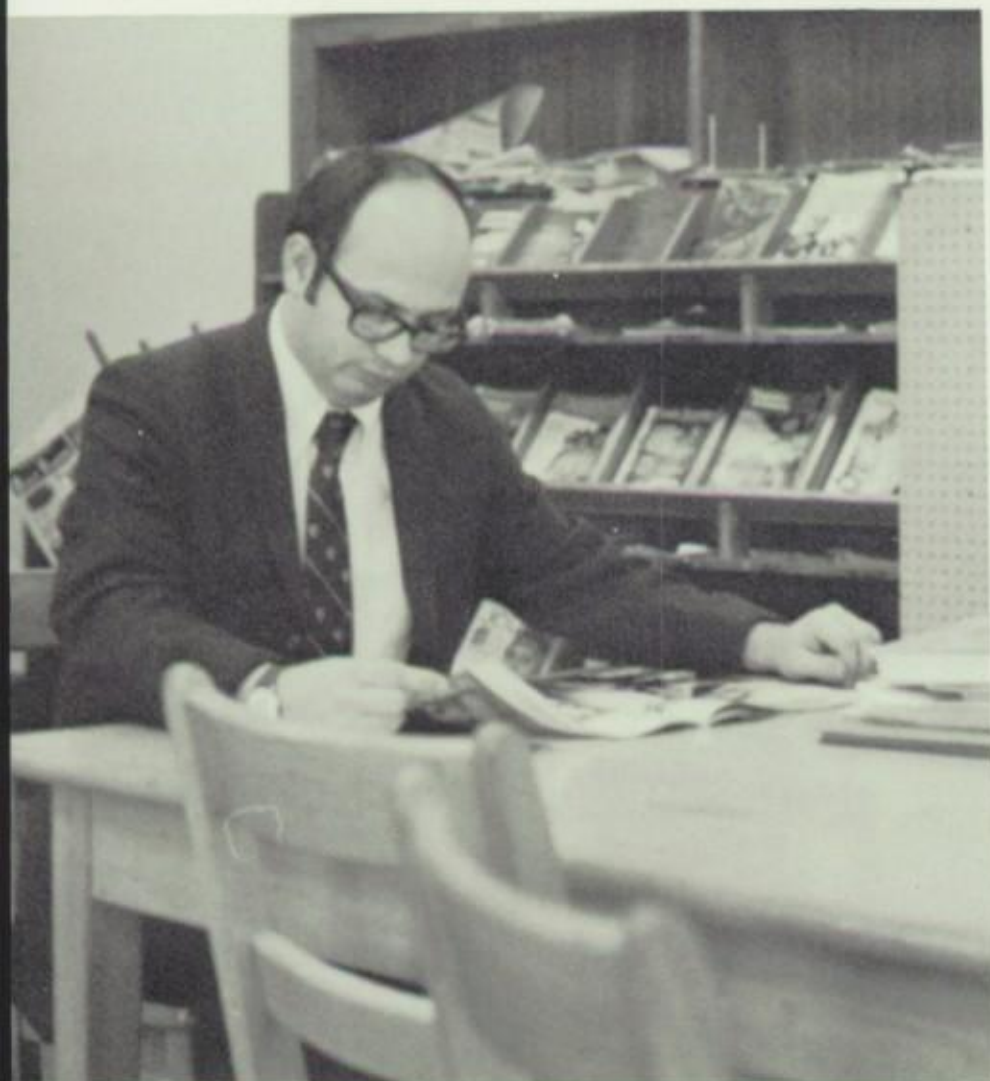

TOP RIGHT: Mr. David Lersch, superintendent, keeps everything running smoothly. He also spends time advising students and teachers. TOP LEFT: Mr. Mark Ray is busy as the high school principal who also teaches political science.

BELOW. Members of the school board are Donald Liechty — president, Miriam Ray — clerk, Rodney Nofziger, Curt Spengler, Lawrence King — vice president, Dale Klopfenstein.

Sciences broaden knowledge

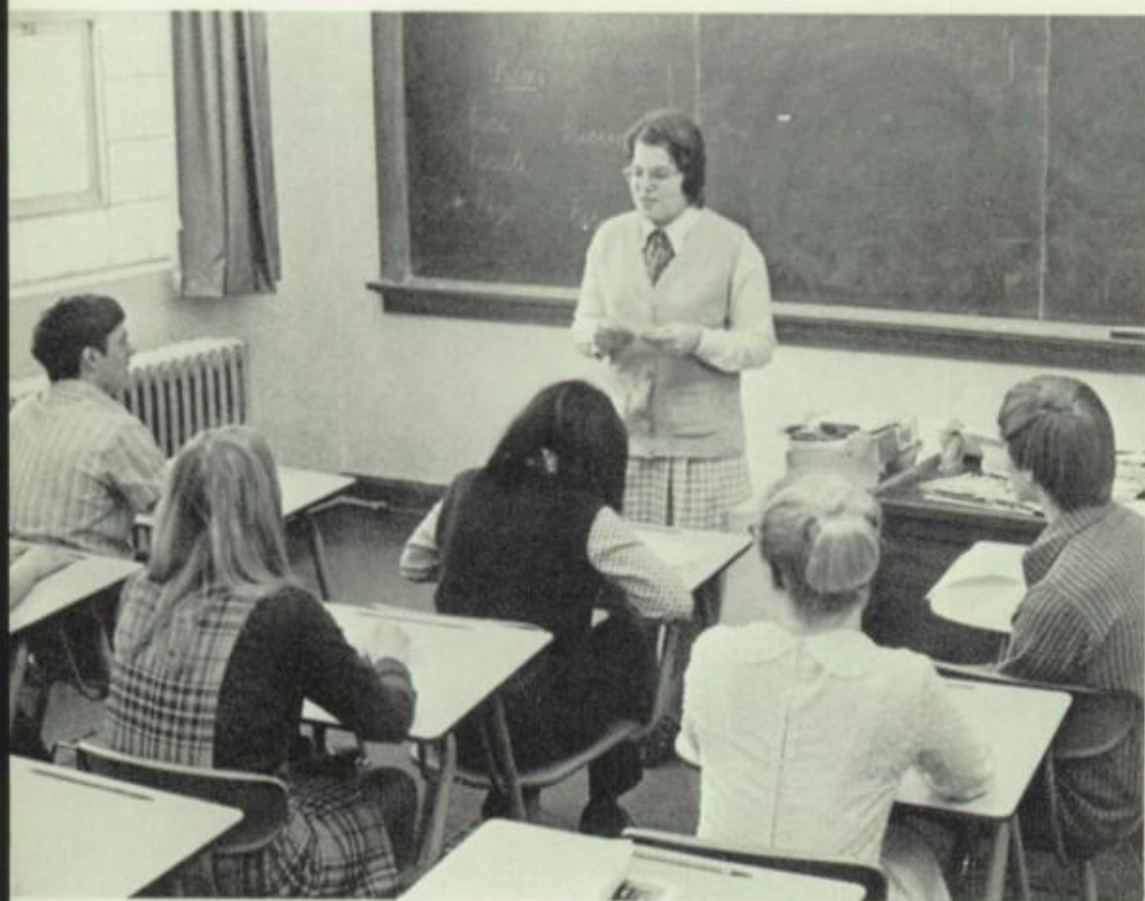

TOP. Mr. David Ripke, science and math teacher, demonstrates to Julie Nafziger, Wanda Rupp, Barb Fenton, Marlene Genter, and Jane Roth the correct way to dissect an earthworm.

CENTER LEFT. Mr. Stephen Brannan, math teacher, spends some free time in the library leafing through a magazine.

CENTER RIGHT. Mr. Paul Hilston student taught in the science department for a nine week period.

TOP RIGHT. Mrs. Marilyn Ripke, English teacher, is also the adviser for Pet Echoes.

CENTER LEFT. Mrs. Shirley Short teaches Spanish I and II as well as art.

RIGHT. Mrs. Phyllis Short teaches reading and math.

Communication bridges the gap

TOP. Mrs. Thelma Rychener teaches speech and other English courses.

BELOW LEFT. Miss Loretta Rupp, our librarian, also teaches English.

BELOW RIGHT. Randy Stuckey and Mark Schlue-ter take their turn at teaching English 8.

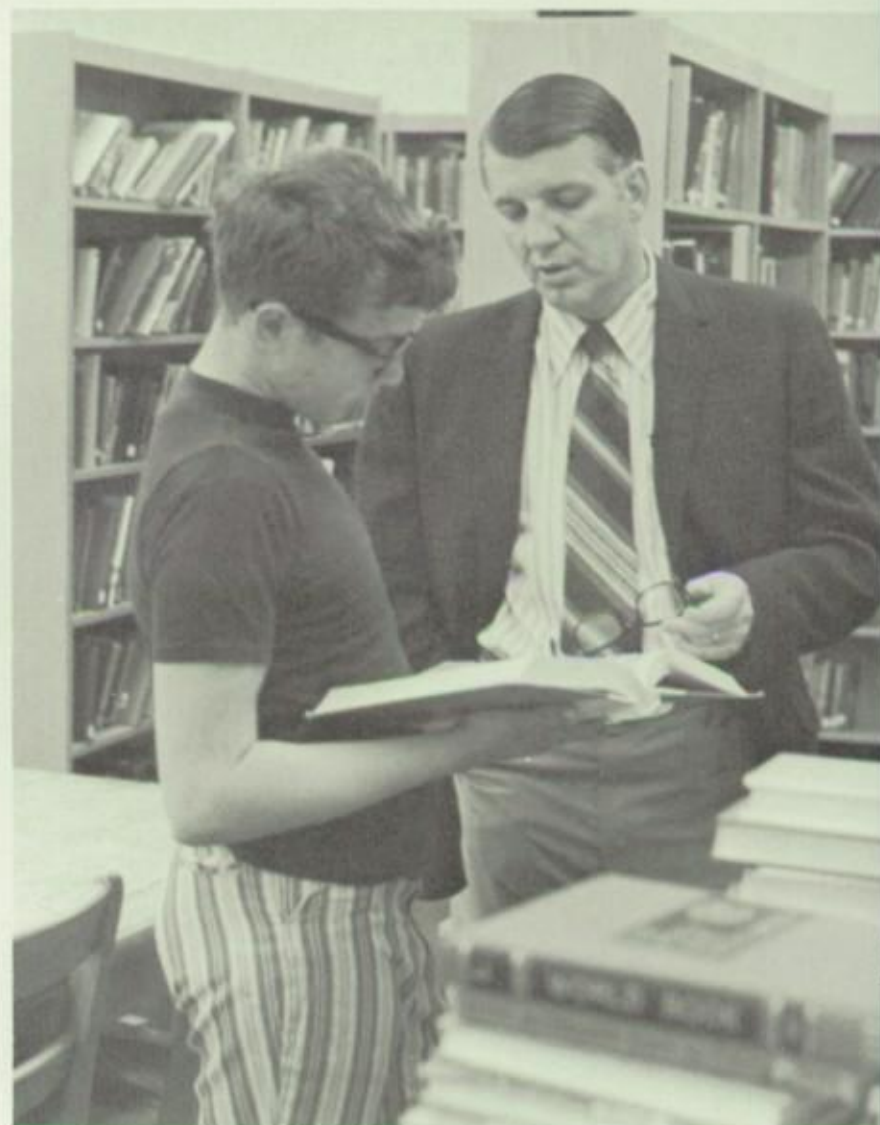

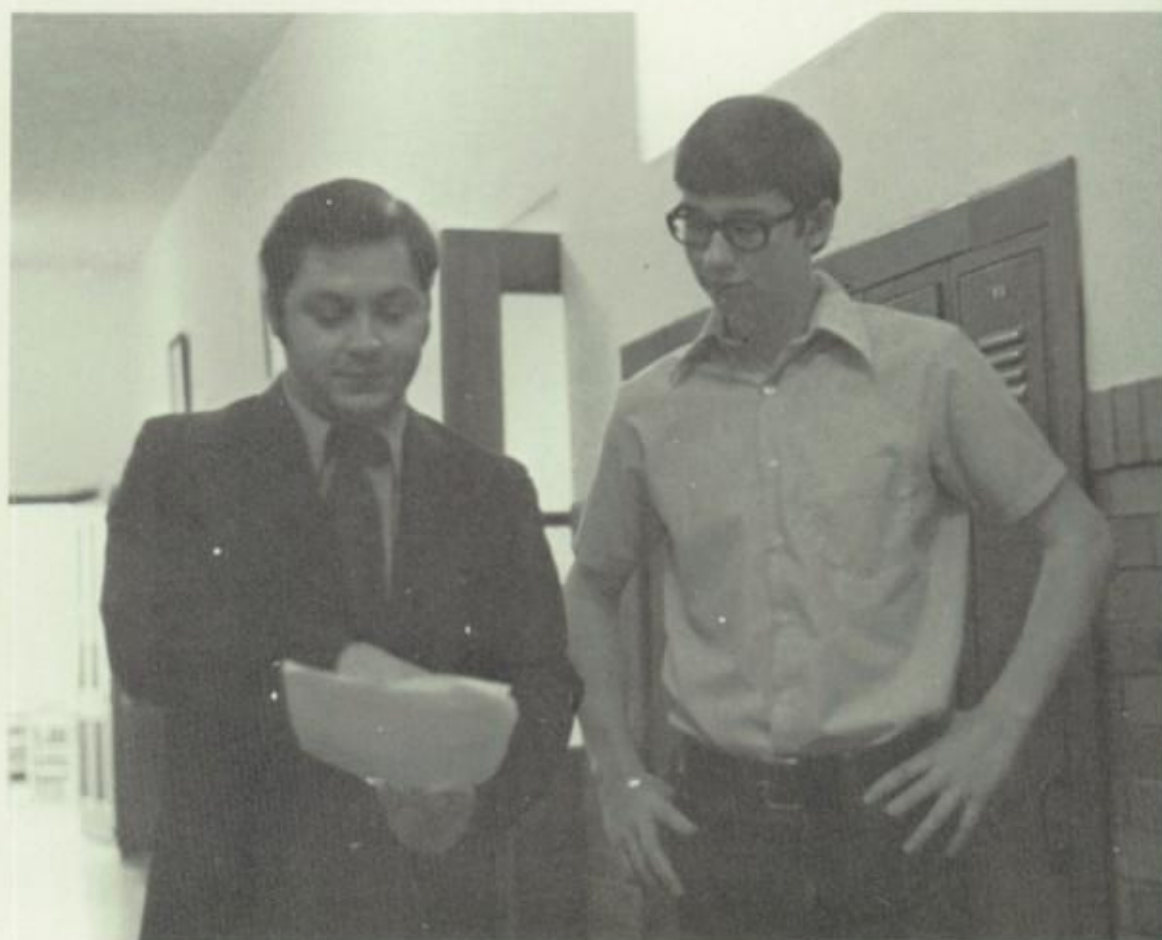

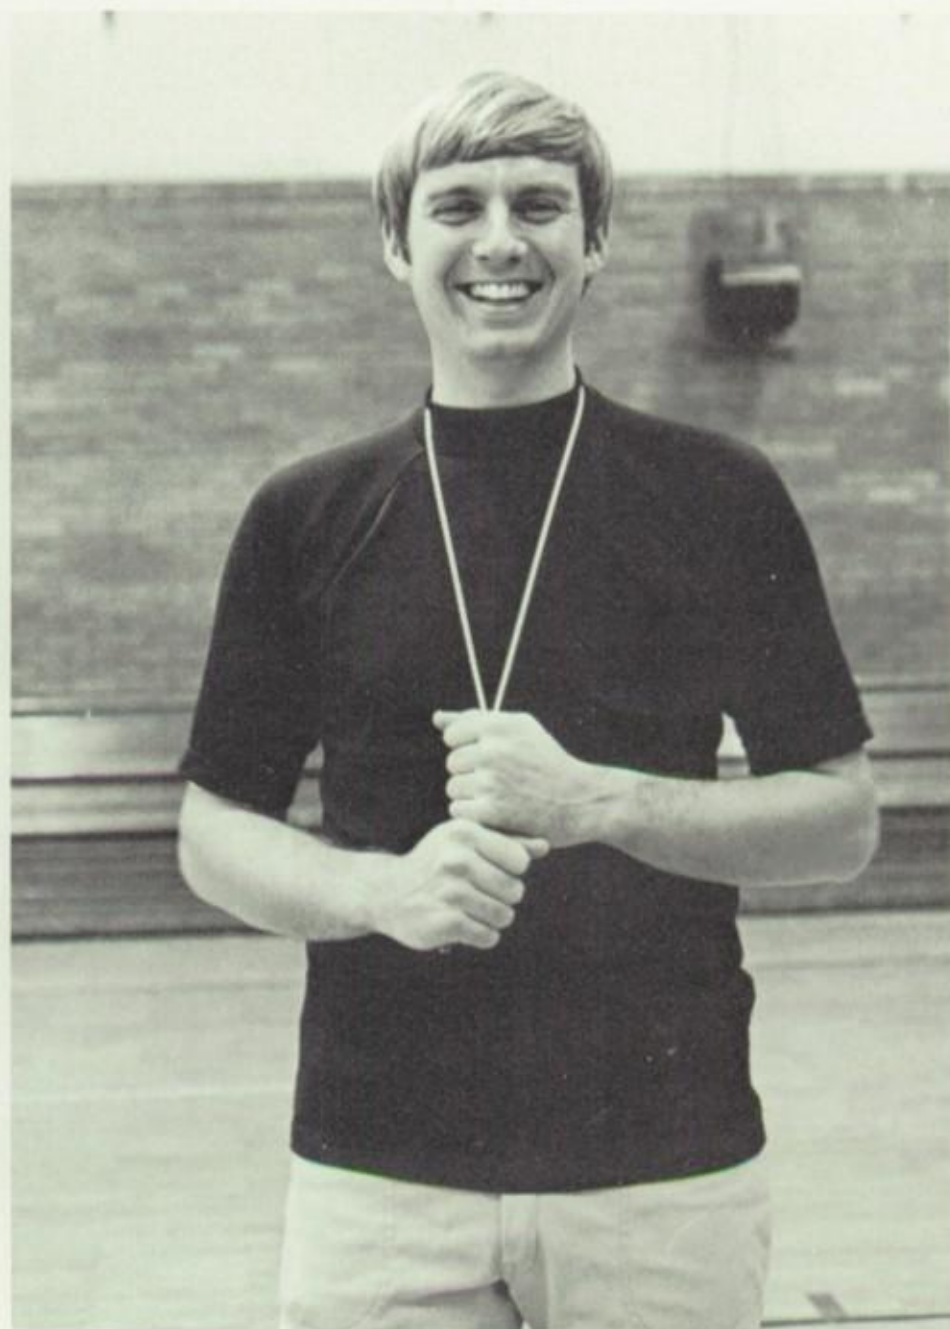

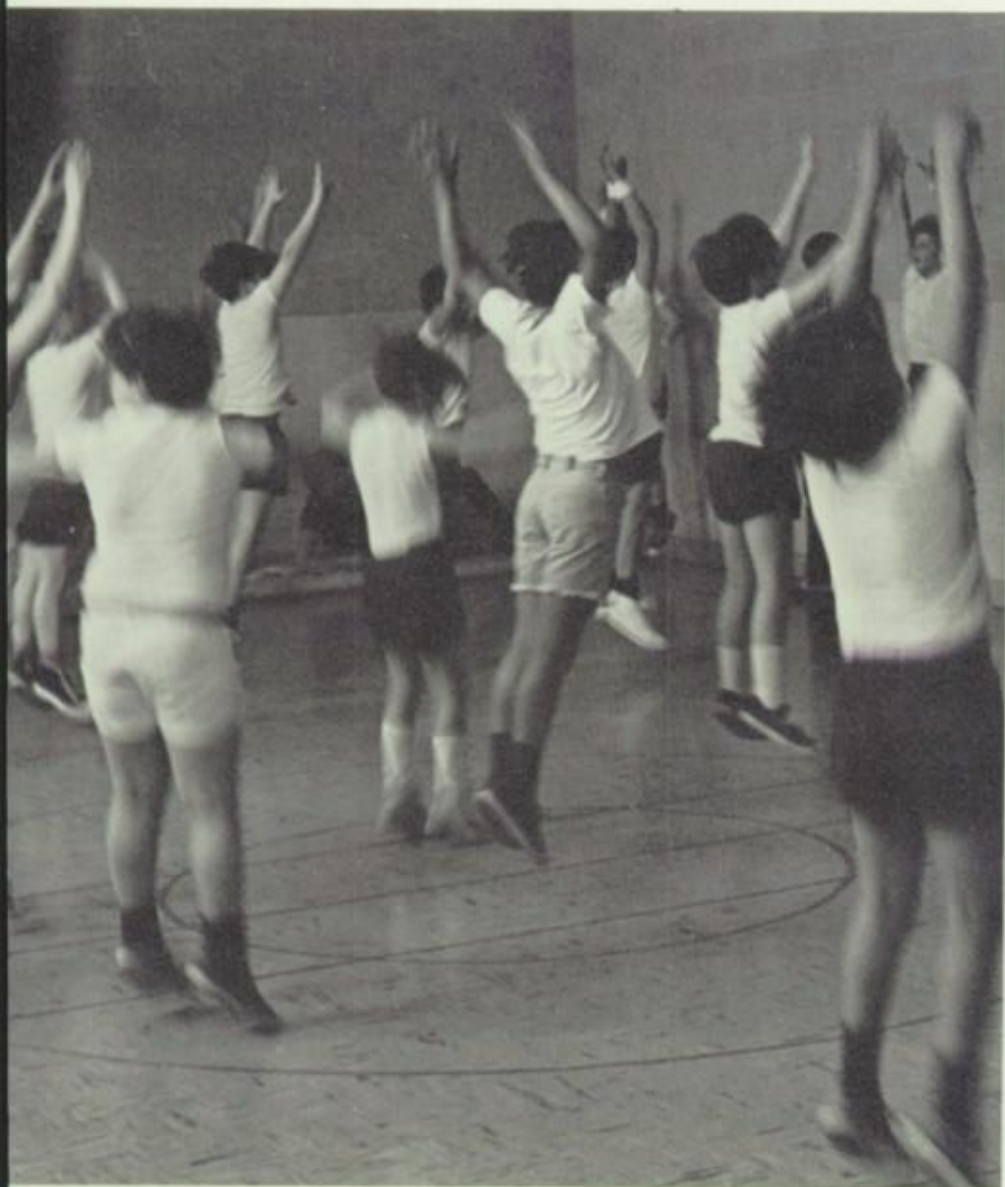

Fitness is needed for both mind . . .

RIGHT. Mr. Gary Frazier, who teaches history, and Con Beck discuss the answer to an essay question on an American history test.

... and body

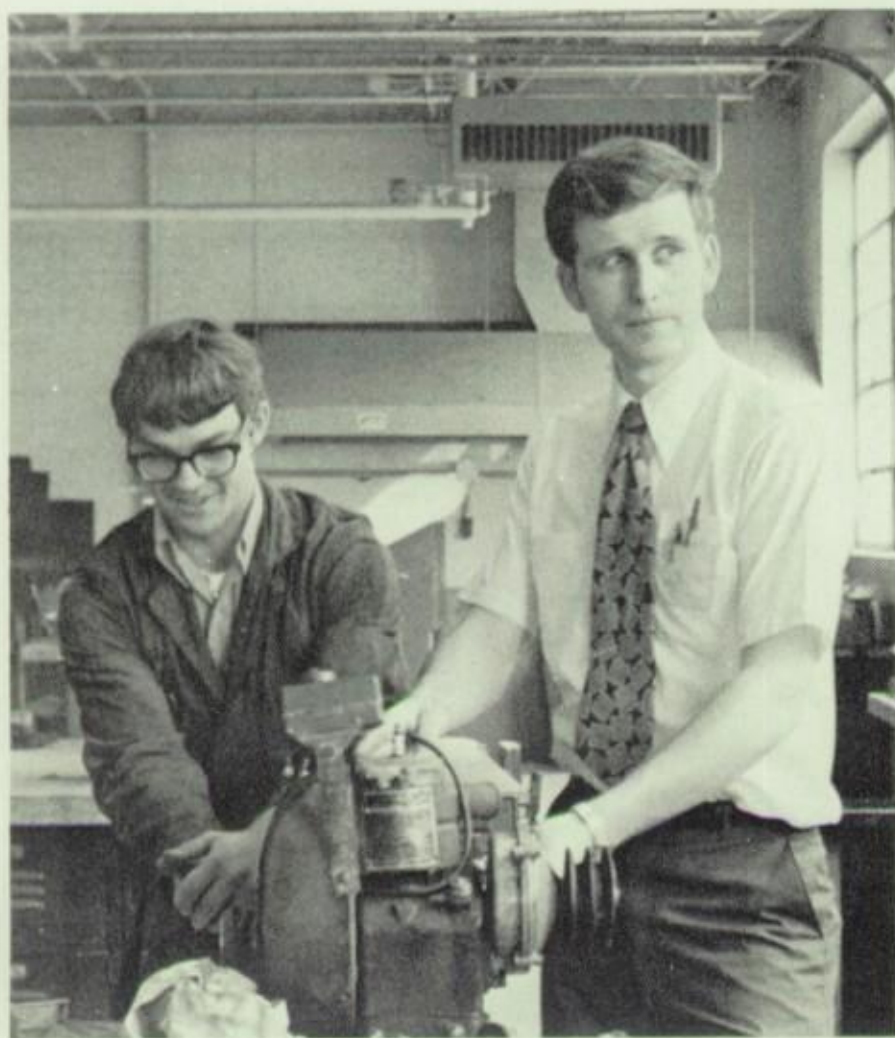

TOP LEFT. In physical education class one can find a release for pent-up energy. The fifth grade boys run through the paces of the "toes-knees-jump" exercise.

TOP RIGHT. Mr. Phil Rychener is happy to see his students master a difficult warm-up routine. Mr. Rychener also teaches driver's education and health.

Practical knowledge will be useful
